

CRUMLEY CASE STILL UNSETTLED

Waiting for News From Indianapolis.

ADVISORY BOARD AT WORK

If Crumley Fitted for Professionals He Will Be Barred From Georgetown Nine—Similar Cases.

The Georgetown authorities are awaiting something definite from the West before taking final action in the case of Tate Crumley, the star Georgetown pitcher, who is under suspension pending an investigation of the report from Indianapolis that he played three games last season with the team which represents that city in the American Association. Telegrams have been sent to Indianapolis for the facts.

It has been many a day since anything has caused such a stir within the sacred precincts of the old and honored institution across Rock Creek. Groups of students are seen at all times on the campus discussing the case, while from different parts of the country graduates have telegraphed anxious inquiries about the truth of the report that the promising twirler has professionalized himself by playing on a league team.

Georgetown Not Bound.

Georgetown is under no agreement with any other university concerning the eligibility of athletes, and as there is no college league to which to present the case for decision, it devolves upon the Georgetown advisory board to handle the case, and its ruling on the matter will be final.

As there is much at stake in a case of this sort, it is natural that adherents of the Blue and Gray should be solicitous that the case be handled by a most competent committee. The highest authority in Georgetown athletics is the advisory committee, composed of a faculty representative, who acts as chairman, three members of the alumni, and undergraduates from the different departments. The faculty representative this year is the Rev. Charles N. Raley, who organized the first advisory committee in 1888. M. J. Colbert, '88, of the law firm of Hamilton & Colbert, who has served on the board since its inauguration, is one of the alumni members, with Dr. S. S. Adams, who graduated in 1878, and Ross Perry, Jr., of the firm of Ross Perry & Son, attorneys at law, who has served on the board since 1893. Van H. Beary, president of the general Athletic Association, and who managed the last football team, which held Princeton to one goal, the smallest score the Tigers made in their season, and John Murphy, of the tennis club, who formerly represented the Blue and Gray in the hurdle races.

Confidence in Board.

In these men all Georgetown men have confidence that they have the guardians of the honor of the university, and their decision, whether it be to allow Crumley to continue as a member of the team or whether it be to forever debar the pitcher, will be accepted as the right thing. If the board finds that Crumley is eligible, both in the word and spirit of the eligibility code in effect at the university, the young man will continue a member of the team. If he is ineligible he will be disqualified, and regrets will be immediately sent to Villa Nova, Princeton, and Yale. Crumley greatly helped to defeat these teams and started the varsity on a campaign which, if not interrupted by the loss of the star pitcher, promises to finish with the Blue and Gray flaunting at the head of the college pennant.

Two years ago the advisory board gave an evidence of its opinion on the subject of eligibility by crippling the team by debarring Dr. L. L. Smith, the star catcher, for playing a preliminary game with "Tom Lottus" stars, although there were affidavits that the collegian had not received a cent of pay for his services, either directly or indirectly.

Recent Disqualifications.

Lately, too, two members of this season's picked squad were debarr'd, one because his scholarship was not satisfactory and the other because previous to coming to Georgetown he played three years at Manhattan College, and then played a game for the Blue and Gray last season, the committee in this case holding that one game should be taken as a whole season.

When a new man presents himself as a candidate for a varsity team at Georgetown he is asked certain questions concerning his amateur standing, participation in athletics, and where he played before coming to Georgetown, but he is not questioned concerning his class standing—the dean of department certifying to all matters pertaining to scholarship. All these questions were answered by Crumley to the satisfaction of the officials, and until the charges from Indianapolis are substantiated, the committee and all Georgetown undergraduates presume him innocent of ineligibility. Crumley is one of the most popular and generally well liked new men in the university, and the students are thoroughly convinced that he did not in any way attempt to mislead the board.

Charges Not Infrequent.

Sensational charges like those against Crumley are not infrequent in intercollegiate athletics. Last fall after playing Smith, her star fullback, against Harvard's protest, Pennsylvania was forced to admit her mistake and apologize to Yale, Princeton, and Villa Nova.

PERRY BELMONT WILL RESIGN?

Reported He Will Quit Racing Directorate.

RUMOR IS NOT CREDITED

Criticism From Political Opponents Alleged as Cause for Giving Up Chairmanship of Jockey Club.

It is reported in Washington that August Belmont will resign his position as chairman of the Jockey Club, because of recent adverse criticism of the turf from men who differ from him politically.

Sam S. Howland, president of the Washington Jockey Club, and a brother-in-law to Mr. Belmont, could not be located this morning to affirm or deny the rumor.

Walton Says It's Untrue.

S. T. Walton, secretary of the local jockey club, though, says there is nothing in the rumor. He does not know from what source the story emanates, but says that even if Mr. Belmont did resign his position, it would, in all probability, not be accepted.

Mr. Belmont, as everyone who follows the racing game knows, is considered one of the best sportsmen who ever drew breath, and is thus one of the foundations of racing throughout the East.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL DEFEATED COLUMBIAN

Poor Fielding Responsible for Loss by Score of 10 to 6—Holland Wild, But Good.

Poor fielding on the part of Columbian lost it the game of baseball played against Franklin and Marshall yesterday afternoon at University Park. The Pennsylvanians won by the score of 10 to 6.

Holland, although wild, twirled a good game for Columbian, but the errors of his team-mates permitted the Franklin and Marshall boys to pass the locals in the eighth inning. The score:

gize to her rivals for playing a man who was clearly ineligible, but this case was little more than an echo of the case of Cutts, Harvard's tackle, who after playing the championship series, was found to be a professional, and was immediately disqualified.

For ten years Princeton and Harvard have not met in any branch of athletics, because in 1884 the Tigers persisted in playing men whom Harvard believed to be disqualified under the code mutually agreed upon when the annual series between these two universities was first begun.

Princeton and Penn Strangers.

Princeton and Pennsylvania have been strangers for years because of an eligibility squabble, while Columbian was dropped from Yale's football schedule because Yale thought that the men who were playing for the New York institution were not amateurs, according to the way Yale looked at the matter.

The advisory board, at Georgetown, cannot be held responsible for the predicament in which the university has been placed at the beginning of what promised to be a most glorious baseball season. If the charges against the twirler are untrue and without foundation, he will be immediately restored to good standing, but if it is proved that he is ineligible, the board will not hesitate to put him under the ban and apologize to Yale, Princeton, and Villa Nova.

CONDITIONS AND AWARDS

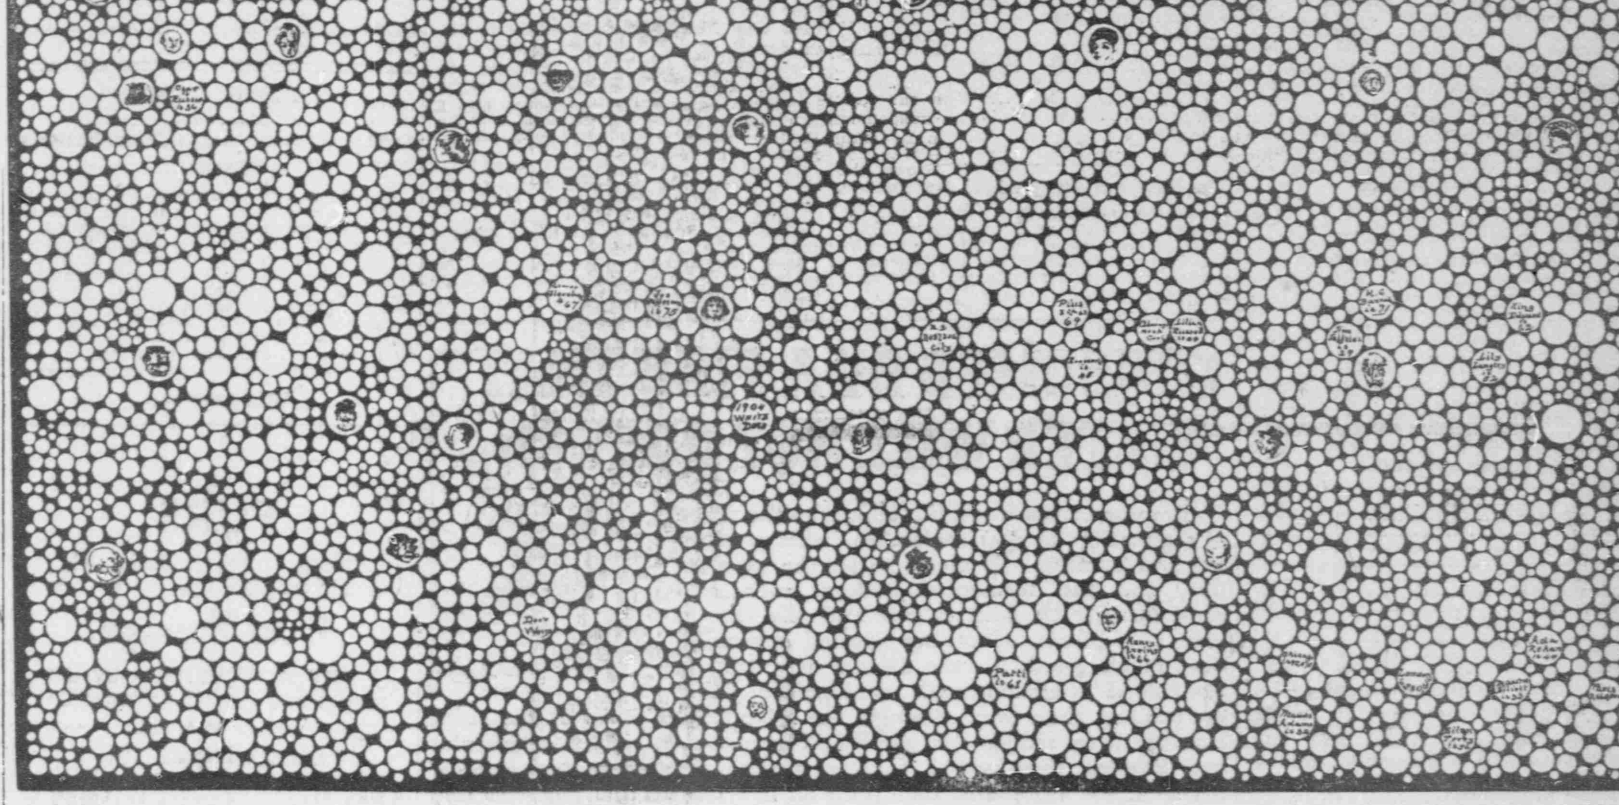

Every subscriber, new or old, will be entitled to submit one estimate for each fifty cents paid for subscription to The Sunday Times. You may submit as many estimates as you wish. The more you turn in the greater will be your chances of winning. Every cent paid applies on subscription to The Sunday Times, so it really costs nothing to become a competitor for the valuable prizes offered in this contest.

It is not required that the exact number of dots be given. Should no one get the right number the prizes will be awarded to those whose estimates are the nearest correct.

Residents of Washington and other places, where The Times is served by carriers or newsmen, will be given fifty cents' worth of subscription coupons for each fifty cents paid into the contest. These coupons are both a receipt for the money and are to be paid to the carrier or newsmen for The Sunday Times, the same as money. When the paper is to be sent by U. S. mail the address label on the paper will be dated ahead in accordance with the amount paid, and this date will indicate that the money has been received and the estimate on the number of dots recorded.

Each dot counts one, and no more, regardless of whether it contains an inscription or character, as some of the dots do, or not.

No one now knows, or will know until the contest closes, just how many dots the chart contains. Nor will any one directly or indirectly connected with The Times be allowed to enter the contest.

Estimates will be numbered consecutively in the order received. After being numbered they will be pasted in a large scrap-book in numerical order, and in case of a tie for any one prize the one first received will be considered as having won.

The First Prize will be awarded to the contestant submitting the first correct, or nearest correct, estimate on the number of dots in the chart. The Second Prize will be awarded to the one sending in the second nearest correct estimate.

The third prize will be awarded to the one sending in the LAST correct, or nearest correct, estimate, and the fourth prize to the one submitting next to the last best estimate, reckoning from the last answer received.

[NOTE—Two round-trip tickets added April 4. These will be awarded to those sending in the third and fourth LAST correct or nearest correct estimates.]

The remaining prizes will be awarded in their respective order to the contestants submitting the third, fourth, fifth, etc., best estimates, reckoning from the first answers received.

The awards will be announced in the issue of April 16. The names, addresses and the estimates submitted by the several winners will be published in connection with the announcement of the awards.

How to Send In Estimates and Blank to Use

Cut out the blank on the right of this, and after supplying the information called for, inclose the blank in an envelope with fifty cents for subscription to The Sunday Times and forward the same to The Times office. It is safer to send money by registered mail or postoffice order. Make money orders, etc., payable to The Washington Times Company. Remember, you may send as many estimates as you wish, but each one must be accompanied by fifty cents, and for each fifty cents you will receive the equivalent in coupons or credit on The Times mail list.

Send One of These Blanks With Each Estimate
